LIFT SLAB GOES TO COLLEGE In The South TO BUILD FOR TEXTILE EDUCATION

ARCHITECTS: LYLES, BISSETT, CARLISLE & WOLFF

A 520,000 square foot Student Dormitory built in record time at Clemson College, in South Carolina, is another part of the South's continuing program of building education and research facilities.

This revolution in building utilized the slabs for floors of the dormitory after lifting them to their appointed height. No framework of steel was needed - time and money were saved from the start. But more than a revolutionary building was constructed at Clemson a growing center of textile education is making it more attractive than ever for firms in any branch of the textile industry to select the South for their home for profits both today and tomorrw.

Frank Howard's Silver Anniversary . . .

For obvious reasons, Frank Howard's hair hasn't turned to silver, but in 25 years time the Clemson football coach and athletic director has made a lasting impression in the realm of college football and relating athletics. His reputation as a Southern humorist is without equal, while his renown as a football tactician reached national scope in 1948 and 1950 when his teams went unbeaten and won bowl championships.

It was 25 years ago this fall that the young Howard, fresh from commencement at the University of Alabama, where he had played on an unbeaten Rose Bowl football team, first came to Clemson—line coach under Jess Neely. Nine years later, in 1940, after helping Coach Neely put the Tigers into the national limelight with a Cotton Bowl victory over Frank Leahy's undefeated Boston College team, an exuberant 30-year-old Howard took over the head athletic reins at Clemson when Neely headed to greener pastures at Rice.

His first team won the Southern Conference championship, his second was ranked among the nation's "top twenty" teams, and following only mediocre success during the war years and immediately afterwards, his 1948 and 1950 teams went undefeated to rank among the nation's "top ten" while his 1951 squad finished up in the "top twenty" though losing a Gator Bowl battle to Miami.

In addition to heading up the Clemson football program during a period which has seen the Tigers take a back seat to no one in the tough Atlantic Coast Conference, Howard has also had the job of directing Clemson's entire athletic program and at the same time raising all the required funds. Going into his 25th season at Clemson, he has never known the athletic department to wind up a sports year in the red.

A native Alabaman, with a thick drawl which helps his reputation as a "professional hill-billy," the Clemson coach was graduated from high school in Mobile before attending the University of Alabama.

A Clemson Monologue . . .

"So this is Clemson College, one-time plantation of John C. Calhoun! It's a beautiful school! The Blue Ridge mountains only a few miles in the distance add to the scenery as you said. Guess the nights are always cool, too, being in the foothills as you are.

"Everyone sure is friendly around here. They make a stranger feel right at home. Yes, I've decided to attend Clemson. It's always been one of my favorites, and now that I'm here I know I've made the right choice.

"No, I haven't made up my mind what to study, but then freshmen usually follow about the same general course. With 29 fields to choose from in the Schools of Arts and Sciences, Agriculture, Education, Engineering and Textiles, I don't see how I can go wrong in eventually finding the right one.

"Have I memorized the different courses? Why sure — agricultural economics, agricultural engineering, agronomy, animal husbandry, botany, dairying, entomology, horticulture, poultry, pre-forestry and pre-veterinary in the School of Agriculture; arts and sciences, education, industrial education and vocational agricultural education in the School of Education; architecture, ceramic engineering, chemical engineering, civil engineering, electrical engineering and mechanical engineering in the School of Engineering; and textile chemistry, textile engineering and textile manufacturing in the School of Textiles. Whew!

"There's always the possibility that I might stay in the Armed Forces upon graduation. They tell me that Clemson contributed more Army officers than West Point during World War II, and a lot of them stayed in and have high ranks today. Just because Clemson is no longer a strict military school is no reason to assume that Clemson won't still be turning out qualified leaders.

"You say the enrollment will be about 3,000 students this fall, and included in this number will be about 30 coeds? Guess it won't be long before the dormitories will be overflowing. I understand you can accommodate 1930 students in the new multi-million dollar dormitory completed last summer and 700 more in the older buildings.

"The buildings around here are beautiful. I really like that new Olin Hall where they teach ceramics and the new multi-million dollar Ag Center. They're both air-conditioned throughout. And the Clemson House! I've never seen a finer hotel.

"You're right about Clemson's being in a small college town, but I guess that's ideal. There's the academic atmosphere here. You certainly can't say you're in the 'sticks', because the Southern Railway stops here, U. S. Highways 123 and 76 pass through town and Eastern and Delta Airlines serve Clemson at Anderson—only 18 miles away—and Greenville—only 32 miles. Atlanta, Ga., and Charlotte, N. C., are less than three-hour drives.

"One thing I'm looking forward to at Clemson is the Concert Series which brings the world's finest entertainment here. This year I'll see the Marine Band, the Ballets Espagnols, Marie Powers in Gian-Carlo Menotti's 'The Medium', pianist Walter Geiseking, the Minneapolis Symphony and bass-baritone George London.

"The dances are fabulous here, too. All the big name bands get here sooner or later. There are plenty of activities I'm planning to participate in.

"Clemson is the South Carolina agricultural and engineering college and therefore not affiliated with any one religious denomination, you say? Churches on the campus are Baptist, Catholic, Episcopal, Lutheran, Methodist and Presbyterian, and there's plenty of attention given to students? Religious Emphasis Week is a high point of the year I understand.

"Clemson alumni are everywhere, and holding good jobs. Why, they tell me that Clemson men are right at the top or near it in practically every field of endeavor.

"Guess that's the big reason I'm coming to school here."

"It Is A Pleasure To Do Business With You . . . "

The above is quoted from a letter we recently received from a Clemson grad now in the Service of his Country. It was our privilege to supply him with his uniform outfit. His complimentary statement is typical of the expressions of good will we have received in letters from scores of Clemson grads—and, of course, nothing gives us more downright satisfaction than being able to truly please our customers. We value good will more than profit—important as the latter is.

When the members of this year's graduating class were Freshmen, they wore cadet uniforms made by our company. It has been our great privilege to be the Official Uniform Supplier of Clemson College for six consecutive years. It is natural, therefore, that so many of those graduating and receiving Commissions should come to us for their uniform needs as soon-to-be Commissioned Officers. These Clemson grads like us for the fine fit and workmanship of our uniforms, our prompt service, and our down-to-earth, low prices which make it possible for them to buy all that they need, well within the uniform allowance they will receive. And they also like the fact that they do not have to pay us for their uniforms until they receive their allowance, whatever date that might be.

We sincerely hope it will continue to be our privilege to fill the uniform needs of this and future graduating classes.

CLEMSON-GEORGIA RIVALRY IS ONE OF OLDEST

The Clemson-Georgia rivalry, fifth oldest in Clemson football history, finds the two nearby schools playing on Clemson turf for the first time in 23 years — last meeting was in 1932. Dating back to 1897, the second year that Clemson fielded a football team and only the sixth for a much older University of Georgia, the competition between the two colleges shows the Georgians out in front by a healthy 20-8-1 margin. In today's contest, the Tigers will be seeking their first victory over the invading Bulldogs in over 40 years. Clemson has lost 13 times since last winning 35-13 in 1914.

IT'S A "NATURAL"

Today's game is the so-called "natural" for many reasons. Both teams rate about even after having been picked as the darkhorse candidates of their respective conferences — Georgia in the Southeastern and Clemson in the Atlantic Coast. The Bulldogs dropped their opener to strong University of Mississippi after leading at halftime, but they came back strong against Vanderbilt last week to win, 14-13, with a second half rally. Clemson hasn't met such strong opposition yet, but the Tigers showed spurts of brilliance in beating Presbyterian, 33-0, and Virginia, 20-7. The prognosticators who rate the contest a toss-up are probably right.

Coaches Wally Butts and Frank Howard are the "deans" of their respective conference coaches in actual number of active years coaching at Georgia and Clemson respectively. Butts is in his 17th consecutive year as head man at Georgia, during which time he has experienced only three losing seasons while winning four bowl championships — Rose, Sugar, Orange and Oil, tying for one — Gator, and participating in two as a loser — Orange and Presidential. His 1956 team went undefeated and untied. Howard is in his 16th consecutive year as head man at Clemson, during which time his teams have won Orange and Gator Bowl titles and participated in the Gator Bowl once as a loser. His 1948 and 1950 teams went unbeaten to finish among the nation's "top ten" and his 1941 and 1951 teams ranked in the "top twenty."

CLEMSON'S GEORGIANS EAGER

The Georgians on the Clemson squad are particularly anxious for a win, so, as they put it, "we can go home during the holidays." Three seniors members of the Tiger starting eleven are fullback Bill O'Dell of Newnan, alternate captain and center Wingo Avery of Newnan and right end Joe Bowen of Villa Rica. On the second eleven, left halfback Lem McLendon hails from Albany and left guard Buck Priester is a native of LaGrange. And on the third eleven are right tackle Jack Bush of Atlanta and right halfback Frank Griffith of Elberton.

Its being "Dad's Day" for the Clemson football fathers is another good reason why the Georgia boys on the Tiger team are eager to show up well. Lem McLendon, for example, points out that his father is driving up from Albany with five Georgia rooters.

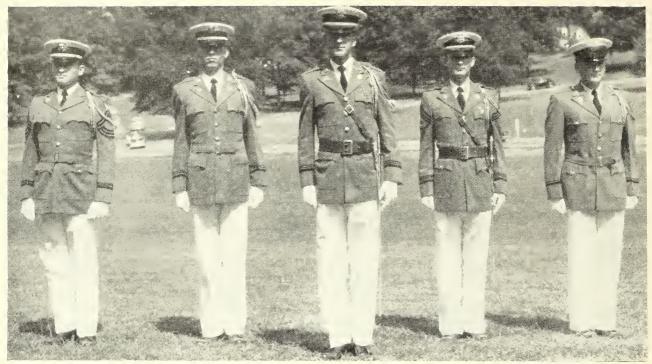

On the ohter hand, Georgia halfback Jimmy Orr, one of the Bulldogs' outstanding players in the first two games, hails from nearby Seneca, S. C., and is quite anxious to look good before the home folks.

AERIAL ASSAULTS FORESEEN

Both Clemson and Georgia have veteran personnel at most positions and are rated strong up front. Clemson, using a running game against Presbyterian and Virginia, is expected to open up with a passing attack against the Bulldogs, while Georgia, always tough in the air, is expected to reciprocate.

Jimmy Harper, Georgia's senior quarter-back regular, was the key man in his team's 14-7 win over Clemson this time last year. Now, many Bulldog fans will insist that Dick Young, also a letterman last fall, is even better. It was Young who sparked his team's two-touchdown drive against Vanderbilt last weekend.

Clemson, forced to play without passing master Don King last fall, gained only 32 yards through the air. Don, whose quarter-backing was a big feature of Clemson's win over Virginia last week, is expected to lead the Tigers' aerial assault this afternoon, supplemented by Charlie Bussey, who received his varsity baptismal last year against the Bulldogs.

JAMES WALLACE BUTTS

Athletic Director and Georgia Football Coach

The 1955 football season marks the 17th year James Wallace Butts has been at the helm of the Georgia Bulldogs. Now dean of Southeastern Confenence head coaches and recently named to the N.C.A.A. Rules Committee from District Three (comprising the Atlantic Coast, Southern and Southeastern Conferences), 'tis no wonder Georgians rank him with two other athletic immortals born and bred in the Empire State of the South: Ty Cobb and Bobby Jones.

He became head coach at the nation's oldest state chartered institution of learning in 1939 and his 16-year record with the Bulldogs shows 110 victories against 56 losses and eight ties (including seven bowl games), for an amazing winning percentage of .663, and almost two-thirds of these games were on the road! His 1942, 1946 and 1948 teams were S.E.C. Champions.

Butts was a member of the college all-stars coaching staff four times (1943-46-47-48) and the all-stars beat the pro champions three of these years, and lost only in 1948 to the world champion Chicago Cardinals who were led by Butts famous protege, Charley Trippi.

UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA

The University of Georgia received its charter from the General Assembly of the State of Georgia in 1785, the first charter to a state university. Abraham Baldwin, a graduate of Yale, was its first president. Classes opened in 1801.

It remained for Josiah Meigs, successor to Baldwin as president, to direct construction of the institution's first buildings on the present campus in Athens, then a virtual wilderness. From less than 30 students at the beginning, the University has grown to its present enrollment of more than 5,000 students per year.

Among Georgia's famous graduates have been such men as Henry W. Grady, orator and journalist; Crawford W. Long, discoverer of anaesthetic properties of ether; Charles H. Herty, who developed the Southern pine paper industry; Alexander H. Stephens, vice-president of the Confederacy; George F. Pierce, great Methodist bishop; John and Joseph LeConte, renowned scientists; Senator Richard B. Russell; Howell Cobb, Benjamin H. Hill and John B. Gordon, all eminent military and civic leaders of Georgia.

Dr. O. C. Aderhold, a graduate of the University in 1923 and formerly head of the College of Education, in 1950 became president of the University.

Graduate and undergraduate programs of instruction are offered in the following schools and colleges of the University: Arts and Sciences, Law, Pharmacy, Agriculture, Forestry, Education, Business Administration, Journalism, Home Economics, Veterinary Medicine, and Graduate School.

John Grdijan is the only sophomore slated to play on the first eleven. He stood out as a 24-year-old ex-G.I. freshman guard last fall. He played ball in Germany.

Don King has been Clemson's leading groundgainer for three straight years. Highest honor to come to the Tiger quarterback was the 1954 "Swede" Nelson Award for Sportsmanship.

Wingo Avery is in his 5th year at Clemson. He'll be graduated with education major in February. Team alternate captain, he's rated the equal of any center in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Joel Wells is Clemson's regular left halfback and today is rated as "best back in the Conference" by his coaches. He's a tremendous defensive player and a hard runner.

CLEMSON PLAYERS

Dick DeSimone was the only 1954 sophomore to start every game. He's a tremendous linebacker from his right guard position. Had his knee operated on in mid-July. Hopes to be ready for most of season.

Walt Laraway will probably be Clemson's leading pass receiver this fall. Must fill gap left by All-Conference graduates of 1953 and 1954 seasons. Dreher Gaskin and Scott Jackson. Will graduate in February.

Willie Smith is the strong silent type at right end. He played second string ball as a consistent sophomore last fall. Is looking for more improved season this time. Runs dashes on track team.

Dick Marazza was the sensation of spring drills with his downfield blocking from tackle. Always strong defensively, he's the blocking leader on offense now. Candidate for Jacobs Blocking trophy.

B. C. Inabinet is the giant of the squad. He's an excellent blocker in the line from his right tackle position. Outplayed Wake Forest's Bob Bartholomew last fall in his big game of year.

Earl Greene is one of the hardest tackling performers on the squad. Poor eyesight has handicapped him, but he now uses contact lenses. Better blocking and he'd be great.

Bill O'Dell has been on the varsity for four years straight. He averaged 5.5 yards per carry as a halfback in 1953. Last year he was leading groundgainer in the Maryland and Auburn games at fullback.

Jim Coleman led the Tigers in scoring last fall with five TDs and an extra point. He was one of the state's finest prep quarterbacks before coming to Clemson. Today he's a great pass-receiving halfback.

Anderson, South Carolina

Donnie Bunton was a "bohunk" guard last fall but played first string center all spring with regular Avery on the sidelines. He's married and the father of a boy and a girl.

Lem McLendon played freshman ball at Clemson in 1950 but took three years off to serve in the army — two as a second lieutenant in Germany. Smallest halfback on the squad, he's one of the toughest.

Bill Themas was a third string freshman fullback last fall, a second string center in the spring and could conceivably be a first string guard before long. He's a tremendous competitor.

Charlie Bussey was runnerup as Clemson's "most valuable" as picked by the players last fall. A "B" student in the classroom, he's a fine leader on and off the field. An excellent quarterback.

CLEMSON PLAYERS

Joe Pagliei was Clemson's regular right half-back most of last fall and half of 1953. Biggest back on the team, he led the A.C.C. in punting in 1954. Is a flashy performer.

Neuf Ankuta is one of the most underrated players on the squad. Had 5.5-yard rushing average last fall. He's Brooklyn's contribution to the Tigers. Excellent blocker and defensive fullback.

Pete Wall lettered as a second string performer at end in 1953. He could have been graduated in August but came back to play a final season. Football has been a big part of his life.

Billy Hudson is the third Hudson brother to earn a Block C letter at Clemson. Brother Bob is currently playing with the Philadelphia Eagles. Brother J. C. was graduated last year.

Leon Kaltenbach has been improving rapidly at the guard position after "bohunking" as a sophomore last fall. He played ball with Joe Pagliei at Clairton, Pa., High.

Joe Bowen came to Clemson minus an athletic scholarship but proved to be the best freshman end of 1952. He was the state hurdles champion last spring. He plans to be a Methodist minister.

Tommy Sease, the smallest, but possibly most aggressive, tackle on the team. His defensive play has been exceptional this fall in practice. He saw limited action last year.

Jack Steinbrecher was one of the South's most highly sought after prepsters last year. An Allamerican center at Barboursville, W. Va., High, he liked the military phase of Clemson.

Bill Few came to Clemson as a halfback last fall but took over as a regular end when it became apparent that spot needed strengthening. He's perhaps best punter on the squad.

Bob Spooner was a sensation in spring practice after "bohunking" as fullback last fall. Had to work hard to pass analytical geometry exam in September to get eligible.

Bill Barbary is solid quarterback insurance behind the experienced King and Bussey. He's also fine basketball prospect, standing out on the strong Cub team last winter.

Ronald (Whitey) Jordan was noted for his offensive end play at Florence High but stood out on defense as a Cub last fall. Blocked punts against both Duke and Wake Forest Frosh.

CLEMSON PLAYERS

Jim McCanless is one of the biggest guards on the squad at 220 pounds. A native Tar Heel, he is quite promising. His kid brother is at South Carolina on an athletic scholarship.

Jack Bush was a regular Cub tackle last fall and showed up well in spring drills. He also played freshman basketball. He is one reason Tigers' tackles are the toughest.

Doug Thompson of London, Ontario, Canada, has been the most fragile player on the Tiger squad through the years. He's had both ankles sprained, but when able, he shows up well.

Hampton Hunter, a twoletterman, should be solid insurance behind Wingo Avery at center. The 220-pound Central native gives it all he's got. He was married last spring.

Johnny Thomason was regular Cub tackle last fall. Missed all of spring practice with an injured knee. Considered best young tackle prospect on team today. Attended Darlington School one year.

Buck Priester has played first and second string guard for two seasons. He'll be graduated in February with a major in education. Frank Howard coached his father during his first year at Clemson in 1931.

Shot Rogers is one of the best broken field runners on the Clemson team. This is his fourth year at Clemson. He had a fabulous record at Mullins High. Is one of the big chiefs at the dining hall.

Frank Griffith was one of the finest Cub backs Clemson ever had. He scored three touchdowns in the South Carolina freshman game of 1953. His wife is Frank Howard's secretary. He's a pre-dental student.

Donald Rhinehart came to Clemson as a fullback, he played second string guard at the start of the '54 season and is now back at fullback. He's an honor student in the classroom.

Johnny Greene is one of the roughest players on the squad. Was nicknamed "captain of the bohunks" last fall. Has seen limited action only to date. Is good linebacker from guard position.

Vernon Carlton, alias "The Rooster", has been a hot and cold performer. He's a good blocker and defensive player but only average at receiving passes from his end position.

Charlie Lucas was one of the biggest men on the 1954 freshman team. A 225-pound tackle today, he's a fine prospect. Only thing he lacks is additional aggressiveness.

CLEMSON PLAYERS

Joe Hipp returned to the Tigers out of the service in February. He's one of the lighter tackles, tipping the scales at slightly under 200 pounds. Will likely see limited duty.

Joe Pilot is one of a handful of Pensylvanians who made good scholastically as freshmen at Clemson last year. Has a good attitude and will likely play a lot of center eventually.

Haroid Strange led the state's high school backs in scoring two years ago with 31 touchdowns at Camden Academy. Injured his knee as a freshman and was operated on in July.

Bobby Fisher was the Cubs' second string quarterback last fall. He sparked the Cubs to one touchdown in the Carolina game but later broke his leg. Passing is his strong suit.

Bob Giles played first and second string guard with the Cubs last fall. Was one of Cub catchers in baseball, too. Needs experience before he'll help varsity much. Good student.

Ray Bowick is in his 4th season at Clemson as an end. Tremendous blocker but poor pass-receiver. He was a dashman on the varsity track team. Works at Greenwood YMCA in summer.

Jerry Ard was 'bohunk' quarterback in '52, Clemson's final year with the single wing. Recently discharged by the Army after two years of service. Played some ball while in the Army.

Benny Kissam was a freshman end in 1953 but has been operating from a halfback position since that time. Don Wade coached him during his senior year at Waynesboro (Ga.) High.

Terry Culpepper saw limited action only as a Cub tackle last fall. He came to Clemson in February of 1954 after prepping a year at Camden Acadmy. He calls Augusta, Ga., home.

Dalton Rivers is in his fourth season at Clemson. He was used sparingly as a football sophomore last fall. Would probably be a regular defensive end if two-platoon football was allowed.

Buddy Rivers is another victim of the limited substitution rules. Very strong defensively, he's only average as offensive halfback. Was just discharged from the Armed Forces prior to school.

Kent Monroe is the "brains" of the Clemson football team. A guard, he's made almost nothing but A's in tough electrical engineering. His father's a doctor. He's the team's only Tennessean.

CLEMSON PLAYERS

Bill Neely was a standout on Rock Hill's state championship team of 1953. He started several games as center for the Cubs last fall. His biggest handicap is lack of weight.

Jimmy Padgett is one of the best prospects on the squad. He's extremely green, having played only one year of ball before coming to Clemson as fullback last fall. Is tackle and kickoff man today.

Earl Deas was a member of Rock Hill's strong team of 1953. He's a non-scholarship boy who likes the game. Lack of size hurts his chances of playing much this year.

Wyatt Cox scored on a touchdown pass against North Carolina State's Frosh last fall. He underwent a knee operation last winter. Is fine offensive end.

Fred Wimberly is a nonscholarship football player from Camden. A sophomore end, he plays the game because he loves it. Was a teammate of freshman flash Horace Turbeville.

Earl Herndon is in his second year as co-senior manager. He was initiated into the Block C Club last year. A native of Fountain Inn, he's been a hard worker from the beginning.

Joe Bolt was a junior manager last fall. Because of his hard work, senior bosses Herndon and Fleming have put him on an equal par with them. He's a native of Anderson.

Gerald Fleming worked as a newspaper printer two and one-half years before attending Clemson. He's an honor student in his Textiles major today and was an honor military student at Ft. Knox last summer.

On the field or in the plant GOOD TEAMWORK SCORES HIGH!

Your football squad knows how important good teamwork is in rolling up scores against rugged competition. Training, condition, strategy are vital ... but precision teamwork is the key to victory. It's the same way in our plant at Clemson. Every single job must contribute its own important part in the process of converting raw cotton into packaged sheets and pillow cases. Whether it's eleven skilled men on the gridiron—or eighteen hundred skilled people in our plant—good teamwork scores high!

CLEMSON'S COUNTRY GENTLEMEN

Clemson's football team is known everywhere as "The Tigers", but they were also dubbed "Country Gentlemen" by the late 'Scoop" Latimer some years back — and rightly so.

Though Clemson students of today are probably more "citified" than they were in the College's beginning, still most of the boys enrolled hail from either small communities or the country.

Almost without exception these young men have been endowed with solid upbringing and show their good manners everywhere. This has never been truer than on the football field in recent years.

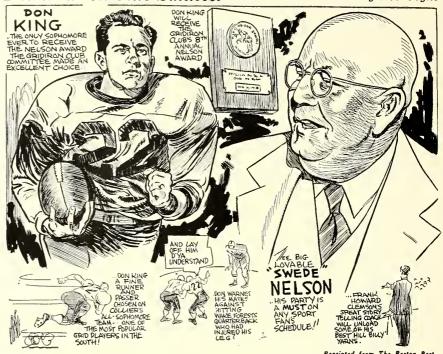

Don King's gentlemanly ways earned for him the nation's top sportsmanship award in 1953 — Nils (Swede) Nelson Award presented annually by the Boston Gridiron Club. (Cartoon depicting background of Award at right.)

But King is just one of the many fine, high type boys playing on the Clemson varsity football team this fall. Don is given special mention because of his receiving the award, but as he graciously said at the banquet in Boston in January 1954:

"Receiving this award is the greatest thing that has ever happened to me. I know there are many other

The Gridiron Club Salutes!

-By Bob Coyne

football players more deserving of it than I am, but I'm glad you chose me."

A dozen or more players on the 1955 Clemson team fall in the category of outstanding college football sportsmen. They love the game, play it hard and try their best to win, but there's also that intangible thing called sportsmanship which makes them fully conscious of fair play and honor.

We like to think all the Clemson players qualify for the Nelson Award by showing conduct on the gridiron which demonstrates a high esteem for the football code and exemplifies sportsmanship to an outstanding degree."

TIGERS HOST TO WAKE FOREST 4 WEEKS FROM TODAY

In what is shaping into one of Clemson's best games of the year the Wake Forest contest to be played here at 2 p.m. on Saturday afternoon, October 29, will match a couple of Atlantic Coast Conference "dark horses"—the Deacons and Tigers. Both teams are unbeaten to date, Wake Forest with victories over Virginia Tech 13-0 and South Carolina 34-19.

In addition to the traditional game, it will also be IPTAY-Band Day. Members of IPTAY will be honored, and quite a large number of high school bands will be on hand to perform before the game and at halftime.

The Demon Deacons and the Tigers played a thrilling 32-20 ball game in Charlotte, N. C., last fall, with King and Wake's Nick Consoles engaging in an aerial duel which Clemson won in the final minutes of play.

In the line, the Deacons feature All-America candidate Bob Bartholomew, a husky young man who had to take a back seat to the Tigers' B. C. Inabinet last year in Charlotte.

HOMECOMING WITH MARYLAND

Maryland, ranked number one in the nation today, invades Clemson for the second time on Saturday afternoon, November 12, for the Tigers' Homecoming.

Clemson has given a good account of itself against the Terrapins for two straight years though losing by shutout scores, 20-0 and 16-0. Last year the Tigers outplayed Maryland in every department but the all-important scoring one.

A highlight of the Clemson defensive record last fall was the holding of Maryland to minus one yard total offense and no first downs in the second half of play.

CUBS WIN OPENER, FACE GA. TECH HERE NEXT SATURDAY

Clemson's Cubs will be seeking their second victory in a row here next Saturday night, Oct. 8, when they entertain a powerful Georgia Tech Freshman squad. Last Saturday night, in rainy weather, the Clemson Frosh opened their fivegame campaign with a 14-0 victory over invading North Carolina State.

Several highly-touted freshmen lived up to pre-game billing in powering the Baby Bengals in the successful opener. Ted Moseley, quarterback from Atlanta, Ga., called an outstanding game while the running of Pickens' Rudy Hayes, Don Gilpin of Connellsville, Pa., and Larry Rudin of Atlanta stood out.

Coaches were also pleased with the blocking of fullback James Stevens of Greenwood. He cleared the path on many occasions to break loose Cub runners to the secondary.

The freshmen line also played good ball in stopping the State running and passing attack. The opposition completed few passes and had two intercepted. Although a pre-game rain made ball handling treacherous, the beef-up-front was hard to cope with on through-the-middle plays. State made most of its gains on end

Coming up for praise in the line were Buck Grover, end, Brownville, Pa.; Earl Catoe, guard, Kershaw; Robert Gobble, guard, Spartanburg; Robert Snyder, center, New Castle, Del.; James Singleton, center, Pickens; and Ronnie Grace, tackle, McKeesport, Pa.

The Cubs drew first blood midway in the second quarter as Moseley dashed off his own left tackle on a quarterback sneak to score from 14 yards out. Hayes, in the fourth stanza, also bulled his way 14 yards for the second score. The Pickens speedster virtually bowled over three would-be tacklers in his scoring jaunt.

Both extra points failed, but the Cubs picked up two more points with three minutes left in the game on a safety. Mike Duke punted dead on the State one-yard line, and after State was penalized twice to the 18inch line, Louis Olson of Decatur, Ga., tackled Don Hafer of State in the end zone for two points.

Taste

Carolina's Pride meat products processed in small batches, each batch carefully tasted-tested, insures fine flavor every

Tenderness

Only choice, young, grain-fed porkers are selected to insure greater tenderness. Each small batch is rigidly tested before going to market.

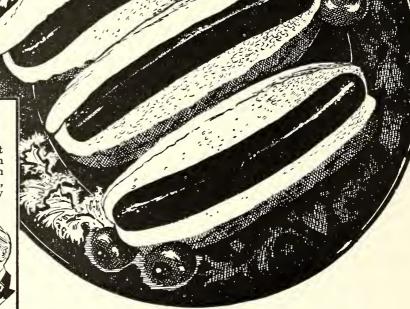

Just as in the cakes you bake, no meat product can be a real treat without fine texture. Each small batch must pass our strict texture tests before it is labeled Carolina's Pride.

DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK

Each time you buy a Carolina's Pride product, you must be completely satisfied. If and when we fail you, tear the label from the wrapper and mail it to us with a short letter telling us what you paid and why you are not satisfied. We'll send you DOUBLE your purchase price promptly. Carolina's Pride, Greenwood, S.C.

You're sure of satisfaction—every time when your choice of franks is Carolina's Pride

These popular Southern Franks, you see, are not mass-produced for the national market. Carolina's Pride Franks are processed right here in South Carolina—in small batches—which permits rigid control at every step. What's more, the porkers are not a hodgepodge of all kinds of breeds from all over-each select pig is a special type, grain fed, and graded U.S. No. 1. The result is uniformity-always the same tempting flavor, always the same tender, lean meat.

That's our promise. If and when we fail you, tell us and get your money back DOUBLE.

ANDERSON, S. C.

Dear Mr. Businessman:

Of course it's too late to get your sales message on the broadcast of this ball game. But if you could, it would sell a lot of your merchandise, because you can bet your life there are thousands listening in—in the rich WANS area.

But Clemson football is only one of the many interesting and entertaining programs broadcast by WANS. Your message on any one of them will produce results.

Ask our friendly representatives about choice availabilities at the lowest cost per thousand.

Yours very truly,

WANS 1280 kc.

The Chiquola Manufacturing Company was founded in 1902. Through constant adoption of new ideas, new methods and modern machinery it has continued to grow and play an important part in the industrial progress of South Carolina.

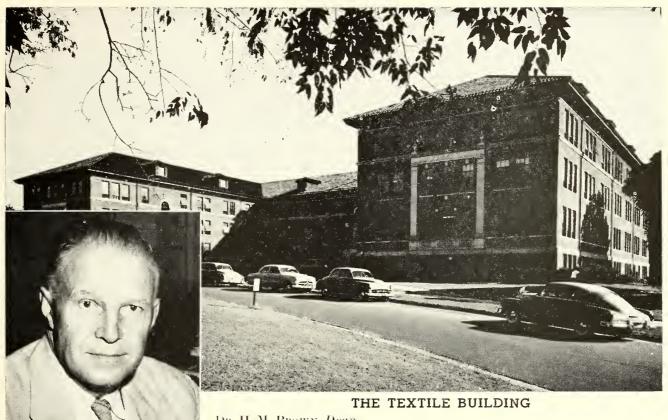

During this long period of successful operation under the same management, Chiquola has produced more than ONE BILLION YARDS of cotton fabrics; it has purchased more than FIFTY-SIX MILLION DOLLARS worth of cotton from the farmers of the South; it has paid MILLIONS of dollars in taxes to the City, County, State, and Federal Governments; it has donated thousands of dollars to schools, churches, orphanages, and charitable organizations; and last but not least, it has paid more than THIRTY MILLION dollars in wages to the hundreds of fine people who have been on its payroll over the years.

Former CLEMSON MEN occupy important positions in our management and we are fully cognizant of the important part this outstanding institution is playing in the development of the South through the education of our leaders of tomorrow.

When autumn leaves are falling and the strains of Tiger Rag resound from the hills of the Blue Ridge, we lend our voice to the plaudits of the multitude with that old familiar refrain, "GO-TIGERS-GO."

Clemson's Basketball Hopes Bright

Clemson's 1955-56 varsity basketeers hope to vacate the cellar position their predecessors of the past two years have occupied in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Coach Banks McFadden will again rely on high scoring Bill Yarborough (28.3 points per game) to pace his scorers, but newcomers to the varsity include high-scoring Vinnie Yockel off last winter's strong freshman team, six-six junior college center Gene Seay of North Greenville, six-six forward Ed Brinkley (ineligible last year) and transfer guard Tom Cameron, who scores points about like Yarborough.

Of course, all of last year's varsity players except Barry Ryan are still on hand, including rugged six-four forwards "Rock" Stone and Tommy Smith, guard Bruce Holzschuh and center Billy Riser. They played inspirational ball at times and looked great in the spring intrasquad contest.

Other sophomores who should help the varsity are six-four forward Ed Moncrief, six-five center Billy Williams and fancy dribbling guard Dick Yeary.

Clemson plays its most difficult schedule in history — 26 regular season games, including participation in the Charlotte (N. C.) Tournament opposite Boston University, Colgate, Davidson, Florida State, Mississippi State, Tennessee and Wake Forest; the Gator Bowl Tournament opposite Georgia, LSU and South Carolina; and the Senior Bowl Tournament opposite Miami, Memphis State and Spring Hill.
